Billiot found sane, trial date undecided

By BRENT MACEY

Doctors at the Mississippi State Hospital in Whitfield have declared James Billiot, 21, 'sane and capable of assisting counsel in his defense,' District Attorney Albert Necaise said Friday.

Billiot is accused of the triple sledgehammer murder of three relatives in Leetown last Thanksgiving. His trial is scheduled for Oct. 11, during the two week term of the Hancock County Circuit Court which begins Monday.

However, Necaise is uncertain if Billiot will stand trial this term of court. He noted Billiot was taken to the Harrison County Jail from Whitfield last Tuesday where he had undergone evaluation to determine if he is sane.

Necaise stated Circuit Court Judge J. Ruble Griffin feels a trial this week will not allow defense attorneys enough time to communicate with their client. The following week may also present a problem since the embezzlement trial of Hancock County Circuit Court Clerk Henry Otis is scheduled Oct. 18.

In that trial, a judge from outside the three county area has scheduled a trip to Hancock County to preside. All three Circuit Court Judges in the Coastal area have recused themselves from presiding due to their past working relationship with the circuit clerk.

Necaise said he hoped the Billiot trial could be conducted in an extended term of court, but he feels a Chancery Court session scheduled to begin Oct. 25, immediately after the two week Circuit Court term, will interfere with that extension.

Others scheduled for trial during the Circuit term include Jay Bee Cunningham who escaped from the Hancock County Jail one year ago and was apprehended two weeks ago in New Orleans on burglary charges.

Cunningham is charged with kidnapping, rape, and armed robbery of a woman who was stranded on I-10 in Hancock County after her car had a flat tire.

Cunningham was transported from New Orleans to the Hancock County Jail Tuesday by Hancock County Sheriff's Department Investigator Delbert Seay after Cunningham waived extradition hearings in New Orleans.

The rape, armed robbery and kidnapping trial of Fritz Garcia is scheduled Oct. 20.

Garcia is charged with rapping a woman at gun point after he accepted a

Hancock sheriff aiding FBI probe

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The Hancock County Sheriff's Department is assisting the Federal Bureau of Investigation and Louisiana State Police in a probe of kidnapping in that state.

Sheriff Ronald A. Peterson Friday reported an unidentified man was apprehended Thursday in New Orleans and charged in an Oct. 2 kidnapping of a Algiers, La. nine-year-old girl.

The girl was abducted between 3-4 p.m. near Bodenger Park in Algiers by a white male in a 1970 Cadillac, Peterson said.

The sheriff said the man allegedly identified himself to the girl as a policeman and asked the youth to get into his car.

The girl apparently refused to get into the auto so the man allegedly forced the youth into the car and drove to Pearllington, the sheriff reported.

Peterson said the investigation indicates the car got stuck in mud on a road off US-90 near the community and area residents helped the man free the vehicle.

"He apparently threatened the girl and told her not to tell anyone she was kidnapped," the sheriff stated.

"He apparently drove back to Algiers the same day and released the girl at about 8 p.m. about three blocks from where she was abducted," Peterson reported.

The sheriff said the account of events in the abduction were provided by the kidnapped girl.

"We are determining if we want to file any charges of sexual abuse in Hancock," Peterson stated.

The Hancock lawman said he is awaiting information from the FBI containing the name of the suspect and a statement by the girl.

Peterson said the FBI interviewed Pearllington eye witnesses Wednesday.

SUSPECT NABBED

A Kenner, La. man is in Hancock County Jail in Bay St. Louis awaiting a Justice Court hearing after he was apprehended while he was apparently attempting to steal several items from a US-90 business.

Investigator Delbert Seay of the sheriff's department Friday said Phillip J. Hawk, 24, is in jail in lieu of $5,000 bond and is scheduled for a 6 p.m. Nov. 3 hearing before Justice Court Judge Lee Klein.

Hawk is charged with attempted burglary and possession of a controlled substance and less than one ounce of marijuana, Seay reported.

The investigator's report states that at about 3 a.m. Oct. 2, Wayne Bieller, manager of D and D Auto Repairs and Salvage located on the highway west of Waveland, as he drove along US-90 saw what appeared to be someone with a flashlight inside the establishment's office.

Hawk apparently was exiting through the front door when Bieller aimed a .44 caliber revolver with a 12-inch barrel at the suspect's face and ordered him to stop.

The suspect then apparently surrendered himself and Bieller telephoned Robert and Walter Dardar, the business owners, who contacted the sheriff's department.

Seay states in the report an eight-track stereo system, a marine radio, electric tools and various other tools were stocked or boxed on the office counter.

The combined worth of the items is $2,500, the report lists.

Seay said the marijuana, what appears to be two quailade tablets, numerous tools and crowbars were found inside Hawk's car.

WOOD THEFT

A Shoreline Park man is charged with grand larceny, was released Wednesday after posting $1,000 bond and is scheduled for a preliminary hearing before Justice Court Judge Bruce Necaise.

Seay reported Underwood Sullivan, 38, is charged in the recent theft of 154 trees from the Shoreline Park property of Ernest E. Cosse Jr. of Chalmette, La.

The investigator said a probe conducted since the July 4 theft led to the arrest.

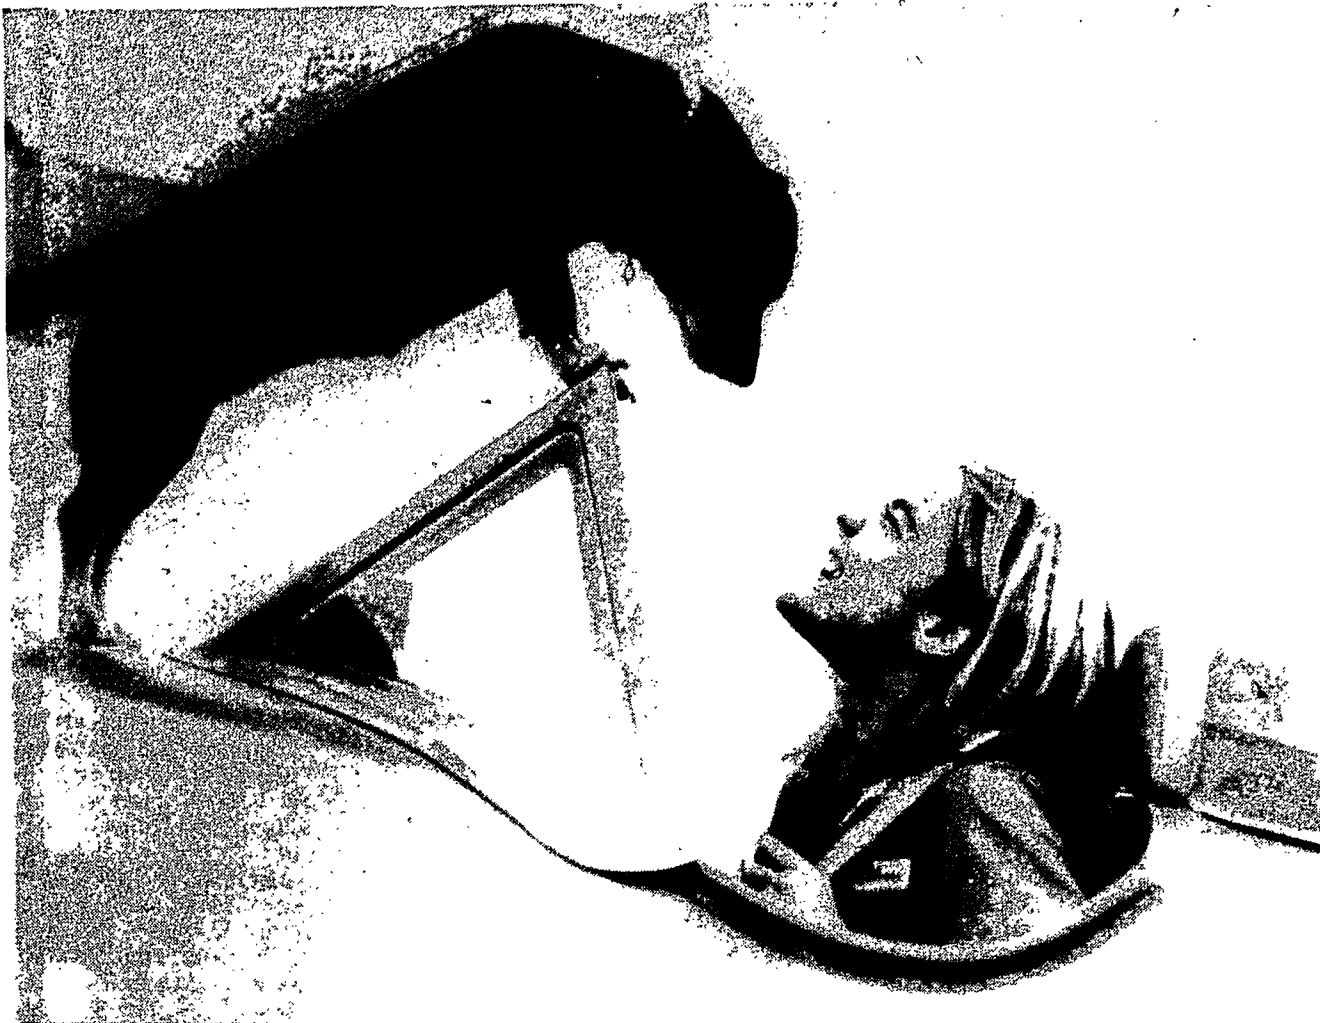

FUGITIVE RETURNED

A Hancock Jail escapee captured in New Orleans two weeks ago was returned here Friday and is in jail pending a County Circuit Court trial.

Peterson said Jay Bee Cunningham, 29, of New Orleans was indicted by a recent County Grand Jury on charges of armed robbery, rape and kidnapping. The sheriff said Seay returned Cunningham to Bay St. Louis.

"New Orleans police had arrested and charged Cunningham with a burglary in that city, but after a National Crime Information Network check it was revealed the suspect was wanted in Hancock," the sheriff stated.

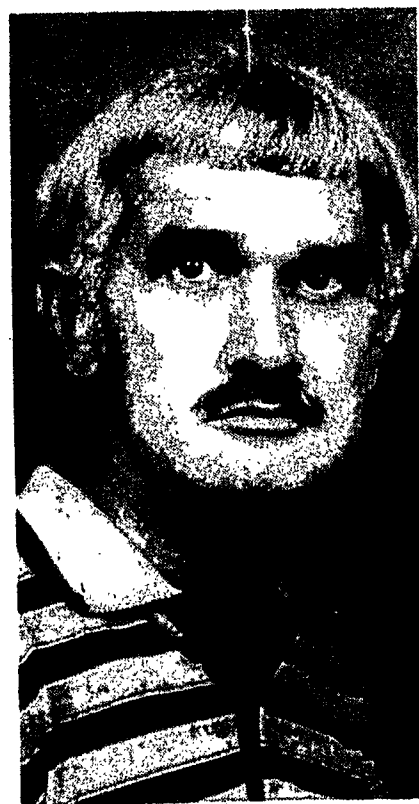

Peterson said since the Hancock charges were more serious, New Orleans police released Cunningham to local authorities.

Lee Ashman announces candidacy

LEE ASHMAN

Lee Ashman, 39, a resident of Waveland for the past 23 years, recently qualified as a candidate for Ward Two alderman of Waveland.

Ashman owns a home at 301 Jeff Davis, where he lives with his wife Betty and their three children, Michele, 16; Sheri, 14; and Michael, 10; all students in the Bay-Waveland School system.

Ashman joined his family's businesses, Mollere Realty and Ashman and Son Construction in 1969 and is responsible for the building of many of the new homes on Beach Boulevard and throughout Waveland.

"It is through my everyday business activities that I have become aware of the many problems that crop up and it is my hope to rectify some of these problems in order to keep Waveland heading into a progressive future," Ashman said.

"When the Waveland branch of the Jaycees was active, I was chosen 'Man of the Year' but my only obligations now are my family, my business, my Church and you," the candidate continued.

"I offer you my time and talents if you support me with your vote Nov. 2," he stated.

Proposed water project nixed by Waveland mayor

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Mayor John Longo of Waveland Tuesday again said the city is not interested in funding water system improvements to boost water pressure for a proposed subdivision when other areas need better water service.

Longo's comments were in response to a proposal by Ray Eaton of Lewis-Eaton Partnership of Jackson, engineers for an ongoing $900,000 US-90 water line extension project, who recommended the city install a 10-inch water line from its well near Central Station which would run along Herlihy Street.

Unexpected low project bids have allowed funds for several change orders for spot water improvements in other areas of Waveland.

The bigger line would help boost pressures throughout the city and allow development of a subdivision in that area, the engineer said at the City Board of Aldermen meeting.

A five percent annual interest rate Farmer's Home Administration loan is funding the improvements.

Diocese, festival leaders silent about Biloxi meet

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Necaise Crossing Gumbo Festival and Catholic Diocese of Biloxi leaders refused to comment about a Thursday night conference regarding the annual Hancock County event.

Louis J. Breaux III, festival chairman of the Sellers Community, Saturday would not comment regarding the Biloxi conference.

Rev. Joseph L. Howze, Bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Biloxi, Friday also would not comment about the meeting. Breaux said Thursday morning the conference was prompted by five deaths and one injury resulting from two separate accidents occurring around midnight Oct. on Hwy. 603 near the festival grounds.

He also indicated the meeting would discuss the diocese's position regarding the event.

The annual Gumbo Festival was originally a fundraising event to generate funds for construction of the new Infant Jesus of Prague Church which is now St. Matthew the Apostle Parish Church.

Both Breaux and the bishop said they would not discuss the meeting publicly hoping negative publicity of the event and diocese would end.

When asked if the festival would still contribute funds to the church, Breaux and Howze refused to comment.

Howze said the press had not reported his comments regarding the annual event correctly and would only issue a written statement if Breaux agreed and the document was published word-for-word.

The diocese leader threatened to file suit against The Sea Coast Echo if any of his comments were published.

The bishop did say the festival has never been a church function, but denied earlier reports that the diocese would refuse a donation.

"I said the money wasn't as important as the lives lost in the accidents," he stated.

"I'm just getting over the shock from the news of the deaths," Howze said.

Community rallies to help fire victims

By BRENT MACEY

The Bay-Waveland Headstart Center is attempting to solicit help for the Koerner family whose house on Copiah Street in Bay Side Park was totally destroyed by fire at approximately 4:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Ed Friloux, Hancock County arson investigator, said Saturday that the cause of the fire has not been determined. Clyde and Mary Koerner, their children Clyde Jr. and Leo lost almost everything, he noted.

Nina Garcia, the mother of Mrs. Koerner, stated her daughter left the house with her two children to go to the store shortly before the fire started. Clyde Koerner was at work.

When Mr. Koerner returned the house was totally destroyed, Garcia said.

Friloux noted a camper top, a washing machine and a boat which were outside the house, were the only possessions which survived the fire. The Bay Waveland Headstart Center is attempting to solicit help from the community to supply clothes, food and other household articles to the family.

Sullivan Bell, with both the Mt. Zion and Bay-Waveland Headstart Centers, noted the Koerners' retained only the clothes they were wearing at the time of the mishap.

The center is asking for boys' clothing size 5 and 8; men's clothing of medium size and also ladies' clothing. Bell noted, "We are accepting any donations, whether it is cash, clothing or appliances."

"These donations can also be used for tax credit purposes. A record will be kept at the center," he said.

Contributions can be brought to the Headstart Center at 301 Necaise Avenue in Bay St. Louis; the St. Rose De Lima School, or by calling 467-3285 for pick-up service or additional information.

Bell noted, "Your donation will be highly appreciated."

Sales tax complaints reported

Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett reports his office is receiving complaints from consumers that some retailers in the city are still charging 5.5 percent sales tax.

The mayor said merchants still charging the extra half-cent which expired Oct. 1 apparently are those with cash registers which automatically calculate the sales tax on the amount purchased.

"One merchant told us she spent $100 to have one register re-programmed to eliminate the half-cent," the mayor reported.

"So apparently some merchants are delaying the cash register adjustments or they are unable yet to secure the service," the mayor added.

One-half cent was added to the city's five-cent sales tax to finance a civil damage judgement against the city in connection with the death of a New Orleans youth who was injured diving off the Ulman Avenue Pier when the facility was under construction.

Payment of that judgement was completed at the end of September and the State Tax Commission ordered removal of the additional half-cent.

Correction

An article in the Thursday edition of The Sea Coast Echo inadvertently associated the Hancock County Community Action Agency with a Hancock County Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. The Hancock Chapter of the NAACP which proposed several redistricting plans for the county is called the Hancock County Action League. The Hancock County Community Action Agency on Third Street is not associated or connected with the Hancock County Action League or the NAACP.

Chief Williams says:

Bay officer firing due to legislation

By BRENT MACEY

While one Bay St. Louis policeman has been retained after failing to complete a police academy course, the department was forced by recent legislation to release a second who dropped out of the training schedule.

In reference to the firing of Bay St. Louis Police officer Barbra Ellspermann this week, Bay St. Louis Police Chief Douglas Williams noted Friday, "I didn't have any choice...I would have been held in contempt if I didn't let her go."

Williams noted a state law which became effective this year requires all new personnel hired as police officers after July 1, 1981, to complete a course with the Mississippi Law Enforcement Police Academy within one year of being hired.

Ellspermann was hired after that date and had been with the department for just over one year when she began the eight-week training course. She left after three days because the course was physically too rigorous and aggravated an injury she said she obtained several months ago on duty.

Patrolman Murry Ladner also left after three days because of the physically rigorous course requirements. He was not fired because he had only been with the police department for some four months, Williams said.

The Chief said Ladner will be given another chance to pass the course before his first year is completed.

Ellspermann could not be reached for comment in reference to reports she is seeking an attorney before handing in her badge.

Williams said, "If she was hurt she shouldn't have gone (to the academy). Nobody here forced her to go."

Williams noted he did not want to fire Ellspermann.

"She was a good police officer," he said.

A quarterly Blood Drawing will be held Wednesday, Oct. 13, 2-8 p.m. at the American Legion Home, Blue Meadow Road, Bay St. Louis.

Hancock County, like the majority of counties in the nation, has a serious shortage of blood.

There are several residents of Hancock County who have donated 50 or more units of blood over the years and we are sure many of those will give again this Wednesday.

The blood drawings in Hancock not too long ago would average around 100 units, but, in recent drawings the figures have been around 55 donations.

One of the prime reasons the lower number of units being given, is because many of the longtime donors are now over age, and as the saying goes, there is a need for 'new blood.'

Our local doctors, nurses and volunteers will be ready, as they are at every blood drawing according to J.D. (Big John) Rutherford, Hancock County blood chairman.

If you are able to donate a unit of blood, we hope to see you at the drawing Wednesday.

It is only a few weeks from All Saints Day and we have noted how busy the Bay St. Louis crewmen have been in preparing Cedar Rest Cemetery.

We hope everyone will clean the graves of their loved ones early so the trash can be removed before All Saints Day.

We have noted over the years how some folks wait until the last minute to make preparation for the Holy Day. Some are even seen cleaning-up on the morning and it gives the impression that the responsible parties for removing the trash from the cemeteries are not doing their job.

We hope everyone will try and clean the graves of their loved ones early.

Today starts the celebration of National Newspaper Week, with the theme of 'A Free Press - Your Key to Freedom'.

Our nation is one of the few in the world which has freedom of the press, as in many nations the press is controlled by the government.

Nations where there is no freedom of the press tend also to have limited human freedoms.

The freedom of the press, we feel has helped develop America into the nation it is today.

We are proud of the fact that The Sea Coast Echo is in it's 91st year of bringing you the news of Hancock County and surrounding areas.

America is our country and we are proud of our nation and it's freedoms.

The Bay St. Louis Rotary Club's Annual Community Fund Raising Dinner will be held Thursday, Oct. 14, 5:30-8 p.m., at Christ Episcopal's Virginia Hall.

All 50 members of the Bay Rotary, with Mark Uram, the club's vice-president as general chairman, have been and are working towards making this fund raiser a success.

Jim Evans, Rotary president, reports proceeds from this dinner will be used for the many community projects the Bay club supports.

The next community project will be the awards for the Annual Field Day on Friday, Oct. 29 at the 1982 Hancock County Fair.

The menu for the dinner will include roast beef and or fried chicken, potato salad, green beans, cole slaw, rolls, cake, coffee, iced tea or Kool-Aid.

Tickets are available from Rotary members or can be purchased at the door for a donation of $5 each.

We know all the students who eat at the school cafeterias will be happy to know this is National School Lunch Week.

We 'brown bagged' and also had cafeteria lunches while in school, and all we have to say is sometimes those dry sandwiches were not too tasty.

We hope everyone will enjoy their school lunches this week as well as the rest of the school year.

Candid Answers To Your Questions
About Advertising and Business Topics.By S. GALE DENLEY
Associate Professor of Journalism
University of Mississippi

I keep seeing the same little ads, over and over — some for years in newspapers. Don't these people ever give up? What's Your Idea?

Dear WYI: From your question I take it that you assume the little ads don't work.

But the very fact that they keep running bears testimony that they produce some prospects.

Otherwise, you could be sure, the ads would be changed or cancelled.

Like the big space buyers these advertisers have found that consistent promotion is as important as display. Not having the resources or volume of business to support big space frequently they opt for a smaller space in every issue.

Another angle on your question is the fact that you noticed the ads. Not only that, you also recognized the ones that have been running for some time.

So if you were a prospect for the advertised goods, a sale could have resulted.

Still another aspect of the small space ad run regularly is that future prospects will be alerted, many times subconsciously, to the message.

All of us have experienced the realization, when a need becomes manifest, of having seen an ad or notice relating to the newly recognized need.

Sometimes we are fortunate enough to find the almost remembered notice, and the odds of doing so are much better if the ad is run frequently.

So the small space advertisers may be planting seeds of an indefinite gestation — awaiting a realization of need by a previous reader before it begins to sprout.

No, these small advertisers aren't wasting their money. They are letting you know in every issue that they are in business. And they are also alerting new readers to their existence.

All too often a so-called businessman will promote his new operation for a month or two, and then assume everyone knows about him and won't forget. Not only is such thinking the height of conceit and egotism — it is also an absurdly poor and often fatal business attitude.

WHAT IS ANGINA?

Angina, or angina pectoris, is a recurring tightness or pain in the chest experienced when the heart muscle is not receiving an adequate blood supply. Angina usually occurs when the heart is called on to do more work such as during exercise, after a big meal, or when excited. Angina is not a heart attack, but both conditions have the same underlying cause — hardening of the arteries. A diet low in saturated fats and cholesterol may help reduce the risk of developing angina. Contact your local American Heart Association for more information.

NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK

October 10-16, 1982

A free press is a cornerstone of our democracy. In the First Amendment to the Constitution, our Founding Fathers affirmed their belief that competing ideas are fundamental to freedom. We Americans cherish our freedom of expression and our access to multiple sources of news and information.

But, as we know, there are other nations where the free flow of news is thwarted by governments fearful of letting people know the truth. In those countries, where censorship is a means of containing thought and action, newspapers are controlled by the government, and it follows that all human freedoms are limited.

The theme of this 1982 observance of National Newspaper Week, "A Free Press -- Your Key to Freedom," reflects a basic tenet of American life. A free press is, indeed, our key to freedom.

During National Newspaper Week, I join with my fellow Americans in celebrating our free press and in paying tribute to the responsible men and women of the newspaper industry whose dedication and commitment to independent and truthful news reporting and analysis are the foundation of our continued progress as a nation.

SEEKING IMPROVEMENTS IN EDUCATION

Through the years a number of studies have recommended that Mississippi establish a state lay board of education.

Starting in 1962, a state legislative study committee recommended that "there should be a state agency for education, comprised of a lay board and a professional staff responsible to the Legislature and to the people."

Four years later, a management consulting firm, in a statewide study of education in Mississippi, recommended that "top priority be given to amending the Mississippi State Constitution to authorize the establishment of a nine-member state board of education."

In 1972, a special education committee appointed by the Governor listed as top priority in education organization the need for an expanded, lay board of education.

And two years ago, in 1980, another special committee — one appointed by the Governor and the Legislature — listed the creation of an expanded, lay state board of education as one of the priority needs of education in Mississippi.

On Nov. 2, Mississippi voters will take this issue up. Already, a number of business, education, and civic organizations have endorsed this proposed lay state board of education. The Mississippi Economic Council recommends that voters consider this very important issue and join the growing number of Mississippians who are working for improvements in education.

NASA scores meteorological first with lightning photos

BAY ST. LOUIS—A photograph taken Thursday afternoon from an open cockpit of a 1929 Travel Air biplane at 1,500 feet which is used by Pepsi Cola Skywriter Suzanne Asbury-Oliver shows the Marketown shopping center in the upper right corner. US-90 crosses the upper portion of the picture horizontally and Dunbar Avenue extends from Main Street in the bottom left corner across the highway. (Staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

bridge are shown spanning the bay to the Henderson Point area. A portion of the plane is visible in the lower left corner of the photograph. The skywriter also spelled PEPSI over Bay St. Louis Saturday. (Staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

First-of-a-kind pictures of lightning in cloud tops, plus unusual lightning photography recorded during the fourth Space Shuttle flight, have yielded an impressive array of new data, according to atmospheric scientists at the Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Ala.

The first such cloud top photography, taken from a NASA U-2 aircraft in May during a thunderstorm over Oklahoma, shows one instance of seven simultaneous lightning bolts. The pictures were taken from a NASA U-2 aircraft as part of the Thunderstorm Overflight Project (TOP) developed by the Marshall Center's Space Sciences Laboratory.

Meanwhile, photographic data gathered during the fourth Space Shuttle mission by the Nighttime/Daytime Optical Survey of Lightning (NOSL), shows lightning bolts which formed a huge "Y" shape illuminating an area as large as 400 kilometers, according to the Center's experiment co-investigator Otha Vaughan, Jr. NOSL was also developed at the Space Sciences Laboratory.

The photographs of the thunderstorm from orbit, taken over South America during a night pass, revealed lightning bolts as long as 40 kilometers, and simultaneous occurrences of lightning at 100 kilometers from the apparent center of the storm activity.

The TOP experiment is composed of two separate Space Sciences Laboratory experiments, the Optical Lightning Detection Experiment (OLDE) and the Lightning Detection and Convective Phenomena experiments.

TOP compliments the NOSL experiment in recording optical "signatures" of lightning from above thunderstorms, said Dr. Hugh Christian, OLDE principal investigator.

The objective of the OLDE experiment is to investigate techniques for filtering out the bright background so that a space-based sensor can detect the actual strength of the lightning strikes.

The NOSL experiment, which records motion pictures and photo cell readings of lightning storms from orbit, was first flown on the second Space Shuttle mission. On STS-4, "lightning bolts were also observed deep within the clouds and not near the upper levels," Vaughan said.

Unlike NOSL, TOP provides a smaller field of view than from orbit. The U-2 flight was the seventh in a series of flights over the tops of thunderstorms to look at the relationship between storm severity and lightning activity, how lightning rates correspond to cloud top motions and to measure the amount of lightning occurring in severe storm systems.

The measurements of lightning are necessary for the development of a lightning mapper which, once it is installed in a geostationary weather satellite, could enhance the knowledge of lightning-related weather phenomenon.

"The combined data produced a significant step forward in scientific fact gathering toward the development of a space-based sensor to 'map' lightning," Vaughan said.

The major problem which must be solved before such a lightning mapper could be installed in a geostationary weather satellite is to distinguish the lightning from background brightness, the scientists said.

The light reflecting off the tops of the clouds is brighter than the lightning emissions. Atmospheric scientists are studying several approaches to filtering the light in order to detect the weaker flashes.

Scientists hope the lightning detector will prove to be a good way to track a severe storm in real time. Large amounts of lightning may provide indications of a severe storm before long-range radar would indicate it.

A DOG'S LIFE:

Stress and Your Dog

The sport of sled dog racing has provided a new opportunity for scientific study that could have far-reaching benefits for you and your pet.

Researchers at the University of Pennsylvania School of Veterinary Medicine and the ALPO Center for Advanced Pet Study conducted a ten-year study of racing sled dogs.

They found that with good nutrition and training, sled dogs, who may cover 20 miles in an hour, can often continue active competition until as late as age 13.

The researchers noted that while under the stress of racing, the number of red blood cells in these dogs was noticeably lowered. Red blood cells are important because they carry oxygen from the lungs to the muscles and other tissues.

To overcome this "sports anemia," the dogs were fed balanced, fortified diets based on meat and meat by-products.

How does this affect your dog? Even the best-loved household pet suffers from stress. New situations, being left alone, noisy children and a variety of other factors all are causes of stress. Owners should be aware of such problems and try to meet their pets' needs.

For a new, free booklet on stress and your dog, send a request together with 25 cents for postage and handling to the ALPO Center for Advanced Pet Study, P.O. Box 2187, Allentown, PA 18001.

WHAT ABOUT THE RIGHTS OF VICTIMS?

When a thief breaks into your home and robs you or destroys your property, you suffer a real loss.

When he's caught and convicted, the criminal may be sent to jail to pay his debt to society. But what about his debt to you?

Who pays to fix your house? Who pays to replace your valuables?

It just doesn't seem fair that you or your insurance company should have to pay. Especially when the guilty person has already been caught and convicted.

Make The Criminals Pay.

Why not make the convicted criminal pay for the damage he did?

You can. That's what victim restitution is all about. It's a law recently passed by the Mississippi Legislature.

But long before it became part of the law, James Thomas was working to make victim restitution a vital part of our criminal justice system.

They'll Think Twice Before They Act.

"Equal protection under the law is the foundation of our democracy. But sometimes it seems like criminals are more equal than their victims."

"I feel that a criminal should have to pay for any damage he's caused his victims. As Assistant District Attorney, I've routinely recommended that restitution be made a part of the sentencing of criminals."

"As Judge, I'll administer justice fairly, firmly and impartially. So criminals will think twice before they act."

He Has The Experience We Need.

James Thomas has spent his career in the judicial system of Harrison, Hancock and Stone Counties.

He grew up in South Mississippi, the son of Christine Thomas and the late L. E. "Tommy" Thomas of Gulfport.

After graduating from U.S.M., he earned a law degree from Ole Miss and went to work as a lawyer in private practice.

Now he lives in Biloxi with his wife Sue, a Biloxi schoolteacher, and their 3-year-old daughter Tiffany.

He's In Touch With The People.

As Assistant District Attorney, he's worked for all the people in Harrison, Hancock and Stone Counties for nearly a decade.

He's prosecuted hundreds of cases in the very courtroom he'll preside over as judge.

He knows the law. He knows how our Circuit Court works. And he's in touch with the people he serves.

On November 2nd, let's elect James Thomas, Circuit Court Judge.

Eaton offered the same recommendation along with several others at a Sept. 7 aldermen's meeting.

Longo and Barbara Rappold, city clerk and an alderman, both expressed opposition to the Herlihy proposal at the September meeting and again Tuesday night.

After attempting to comment off-the-record about the recommendation at the Tuesday public meeting, Eaton heatedly emphasized, "This (recommendation) doesn't have anything to do with the subdivision."

"It would help to a degree because the city could have some 20 lots developed, but at the same time help the entire system," he stated.

Eaton revealed his report is based on a FmHA recommendation.

He said Ray McIntyre is attempted to develop the subdivision.

Rappold reported a developer of a Ward One subdivision has waited some two years for improved water service.

She said FmHA would not approve funding water improvements for the subdivision and noted developers of Century Park Apartments on Waveland Avenue have provided their own water system at a cost of $180,000.

Longo stated the present six-inch Herlihy water-line should be adequate for existing use.

The mayor and Rappold both agreed to Eaton's proposal to increase the water line size of a line running to St. Joseph Street under the Louisville and Nashville Railroad at Central and Coleman Avenues.

"The other (Herlihy proposal) is a very low priority," Longo stated. Eaton said the St. Joseph project would also help improve water pressure because the line would extend from the eight-inch Coleman Avenue well.

Longo also noted the city must strive to improve utility services for existing residences and businesses in light of a $200 million lawsuit recently filed against Bay St. Louis by residents seeking city utilities in the annexed area.

Eaton said the aldermen had already met with McIntyre and agreed to share the costs for the Herlihy water main, but Rappold denied that the board had ever discussed the project with the developer.

Longo stated the subdivision developer should bear the bulk of costs for such a project.

The mayor directed Eaton to again talk with FmHA officials about the aldermen's Sept. 7 recommendations to replace existing 1.5 and two-inch water lines on Farrar, Broad and South Streets with six-inch mains which would also allow fire hydrant installation.

Eaton reported the number of change order projects which can be undertaken depends on piling tests for a US-90 water tank foundation.

He said if tests indicate footings must be deeper than anticipated, project costs could increase $5,000-$10,000 and eliminate some of the suggested spot improvements.

The mayor directed Eaton to discuss the city's proposed change orders with FmHA officials.

However, the board authorized Longo to sign a FmHA change order to replace six-inch Beach Boulevard water lines from Nicholson Avenue to the Bay St. Louis city limits with eight-inch pipe.

Eaton said there are enough excess funds for the improvement and FmHA has approved the work.

The engineer said the beach project survey is completed and he has received a construction cost quotation, but he did not reveal the amount.

Stacks of white plastic pipe for the work was recently placed along the beachfront project route.

The aldermen also authorized placing legal advertisements seeking competitive bids for the final phase of the U.S. Housing and Urban Development Department-funded Middletown Rehabilitation Project.

Eaton said the project would involve installing 350-feet of water and sewage lines, drainage and road grading and paving on Amar Street.

But he reported competitive bids will only be sought for sewage line work.

He said excess funds might be available to renovate two additional homes in the Middletown area.

The board also passed a motion acknowledging review, adjustment and approval of plans and specifications for the Amar work as recommended by Eaton.

Regarding the Waveland Library renovation and expansion project now underway, the board accepted a recommendation by Becky Weston of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club and authorized contracting with a professional landscaper to plant shrubbery around the building.

Weston presented a landscaping plan formulated by Lewis-Eaton.

Longo commended Weston for donating her time and labor for the upkeep of library grounds for the last five years.

Hawk Ninth Graders drown Rock-A-Chaws

Hancock North Central Ninth Grade Football Team Thursday, playing in a steady downpour, rung-out a soaked St. Stanislaus aggregation at Hawk Stadium, 12-6.

SSC halfback Mark Logan posted the evening's first score on a 55-yard run for six points.

An unsuccessful two-point attempt followed the second quarter scoring action, and the Rocks remained ahead 6-0 at halftime.

Halfback Nathan Davis brought the Hawks back to life in the third quarter when he scored on a 25-yard run.

The Hawks also were unsuccessful with the extra point attempt, and the ballgame was knotted at 6-6 going into the fourth quarter. Davis scored again for HNC in the final period, and the clock ran out on a late effort by the Rocks to pull even.

Davis' second TD came on a 14-yard run, and the extra point attempt failed again.

"Our entire defense played a good game to earn us this victory," said Hawk coach Joe Shaw.

HNC's Scott Curet was credited with blocking a Rock punt and recovery of a SSC fumble.

The Hawks will take 2-2 overall and 2-2 conference records into an encounter with conference foe Vancleave in Jackson County at 7 p.m. Thursday.

The Eagles had first and goal at the ten when Hugh Hill picked up eight yards.

Lombard then handed off to Rick Campbell who broke over for a two-yard touchdown.

The extra point kick was good, giving the Eagles a 21-0 edge three minutes into the period.

Cedric Goff took the kickoff at his five and picked up 15.

Curry picked up ten on the first down, but the Hawks sustained a 15-yard loss on a holding call.

The Hawks suffered a total loss of some 95 yards on eight infractions in the game.

Curry picked up seven more but the Hawks were still 13 yards shy on fourth down.

Fricke, who averaged 33 yards each on four kicks substituting for the injured Bobby Beech, punted the Hawks out of the hole with a 35-yard boot.

The Eagles took over on their own 46 for a seven-play series which included a spectacular reception of an 18-yard Lombard pass by split end Eric Flemming.

But once the Eagles got into Hancock territory, the Hawk defenses tightened and the visitors lost the ball on downs.

The Hawks closed out the third stanza with a drive deep to the Eagle 16 before they also lost the ball on downs.

The drive was sparked by a first down Farve-to-Cedric Goff completion for 35 yards, followed by an additional 10-yard pick up by the same combination.

But in a fair play turnabout, the eagle line solidified once the Hawks hit their opponents' 17, and HNC never moved in four tries from there.

A second Hawk possession in the fourth period was marred by three quarterback sacks. Lombard sparked a late fourth quarter drive from his own 40, capped by a 12-yard touchdown dash from the 12.

An extra point kick failed, giving the Eagles their closing 27-0 triumph over the Hawks.

With a minute-and-a-half left, the Hawks, led by a hard-driving Curry, marched from their own 32 down to the St. John 24 before time ran out.

The Hawks bested the Eagles on the ground, 138 yards to 103, but Favre's passes totaled only 73 yards to 138 yards for Lombard.

In a clean effort, the Eagles lost only 15 yards on three infractions.

The contest was a sticky-fingered affair with many a fumble all night.

The Hawks will meet Vancleave this week and St. John vies with Leakesville.

Bay Jr. High tops Bearcats in thriller

The Bay High School Junior High Tigers defeated the Long Beach Bearcats 9-6 Thursday evening in a football thriller that was decided in the final seconds of the game.

With the contest tied at 6-6 and 17 seconds remaining in the game, Tiger quarterback Jeffrey Smith hit Dennis Dear on a 60 yard pass play to the Bearcat's 20 yard line.

With five seconds remaining, Tiger Stace McRaney kicked a 37 yard fieldgoal to give the Tigers a 9-6 victory and retain its undefeated 6-0 season.

Long Beach scored first in the ball game on a forty yard pass in the second quarter.

The Tigers scored in the third quarter on a 17 yard run by Joe Summers.

Tiger Head Coach Cleveland Williams noted his offensive linemen have done a tremendous job this season. The Tigers have great balance and quickness in the backfield. He also complemented his defense; composed of Trace McRaney (captain), Stace McRaney, Orland Craft, Joe Summers, J.J. Roberts, Willie Lewis, Jeffery Crawford, Matt Fairconnetue, Dennis Dear, Jessie Parker, and Doug Burge.

"The Tigers' crunch defense has given up 18 points so far this year," Williams noted. He stated the Junior High Tigers will have their work cut out for them this coming week when they host East Central in a game which may decide the conference title.

Williams noted East Central has overall good speed and balance and are 4-1 in conference play.

CULMINATING HOME-COMING—Bay High Senior Jelinda Edgecombe is crowned Bay High School Homecoming Queen by Superintendent J.D. Pearlington 5&6ers topped by Bay Jrs.

Bay Junior High beat the Pearlington Booster's Tuesday night in Pearlington, 22-0.

Scott Necaise of Bay Junior High scored the Tigers' first touchdown, and Douglas Rhodes ran for two extra points.

Pearlington's Doodle Dayle intercepted a pass and brought it back 42 yards.

The first half closed out with the score still at 8 to 0.

Bay Junior High's Necaise and Rhodes struck again in the third quarters for a touchdown and extra points, respectively.

Juan Aultman of Bay Junior High intercepted a fourth-quarter Ricky Boyet pass to set up the Tigers' third touchdown scored this time by Rhodes.

The extra points were blocked by Booster Robbie Givians, fixing the scoring for the evening at 22-0.

Andy Warran of the Boosters recovered a fumble but time ran out before the Boosters could capitalize on the opportunity.

Boosters meet Gulfview Tuesday, 6:30 p.m. in Pearlington.

Gulfview edged the Boosters earlier in season in a high-scoring event in Lakeshore.

PBS nature series views Andes range

Nature, public television's new 13-week series of natural history programs, will premiere on Sunday, Oct. 10 at 7 p.m. over the Public Broadcasting Service (PBS) with the opening segment of a three-part film, "The Flight of the Condor."

PBS is broadcast on the Gulf Coast over channel 19 and on Hancock Community Cable's channel 13.

The film explores the wildlife and vegetation of one of the world's least accessible, least explored but most breathtakingly beautiful wildernesses—the Andes mountains.

Backbone of South America, the Andes is the longest chain of mountains in the world, stretching in a continuous line for 4,500 miles. This vast sweep of latitude and altitude ensures an astounding variety of landscape and natural habitat.

Co-produced by WNET, New York, and the world-famous BBC Natural History Unit, "The Flight of the Condor" provides a bird's-eye view of a landscape of stunning beauty and contrasts.

The film begins at the southernmost tip of South America at Cape Horn, with its storm-beaten rocks; continues north through the tempestuous islands and channels of Tierra del Fuego; explores the driest desert in the world—the Atacama; travels over the great volcanoes perched precariously along the equator—Cotopaxi and Antisana; and finally, takes viewers through the vast rain forest on the frontiers of the Amazon river.

Within this landscape is revealed the life of its amazingly diverse wild inhabitants—puma and penguin, flamingo and sloth, vampire bat and parakeet, alligator and turtle—and their unusual adaptations that allow them to survive in a harsh world.

South American animals are among the strangest in the world. The isolation of the continent—South America was a vast island for 200 million years—and the immense diversity of habitats shaped by the towering Andes have produced an incredibly rich variety of species indigenous to that region. There are twice as many types of birds here as there are in Africa.

The series of three programs comprising "The Flight of the Condor"—the title refers to the biggest bird of prey in the world, the condor, who, with its ten-foot wingspan, soars effortlessly over the length and breadth of the Andes—will show how the landscape is formed, and how in turn that land helped shape the climate, the vegetation and the creatures that live on the slopes and in the jungles.

"The Flight of the Condor" contains stunning aerial photography, often over areas never before even visited. There is detailed filming of the life of its animals by some of the finest nature cameramen in the world, revealing the spectacle and wonder of a constantly changing landscape and its animal inhabitants.

To make "The Flight of the Condor," producer-writer Michael Andrews, his family and crew, were based for 18 months in South America, researching and organizing seven different filming trips, driving 33,000 miles (including 3,500 miles across the Atacama desert), making about 70 flights in every type of aircraft imaginable, from glide plane to sea plane, and using packhorses and canoes to reach jungle, desert, forest and ice caps.

For most people, these journeys would have been an expedition in their own right; for "The Flight of the Condor" crew they were just a means of getting to the right places to film.

And there was plenty of adventure! Award-winning cameraman Hugh Miles was marooned on a rock at the foot of the cliff of Cape Horn while filming penguins. The crew climbed a volcano, dodged falling icebergs, canoed through rapids, slept in a minefield, climbed numerous giant trees and met an uncontacted Indian tribe in the jungle. One crew member was bitten by a vampire bat, and Michael Andrews had his shirt torn by an ocelot which, it turned out, only wanted to cuddle!

"The Flight of the Condor" will be shown in three parts on the Nature series. Program One, entitled "Ice, Wind and Fire," will be televised Sunday, Oct. 10 at 7 p.m.; Program Two, "Ocean, Desert and Thin Air," will be seen on Sunday, Oct. 17 at 7 p.m.; and Program Three, "Down The Amazon," will be broadcast on Sunday, Oct. 24 at 7 p.m.

"The Flight of the Condor" was produced and written by Michael Andrews. The photography is by Hugh Miles and Rodger Jackman.

Dr. Donald Johanson, the world-renowned paleoanthropologist, will be the on-camera host.

Davis Heeley is the producer of the Nature series for WNET/Thirteen. The executive producer is George Page.

The series is made possible by funding from public television stations.

ABUNDANT HAY—Rainfall practically every day of the summer in Mississippi until late August created an excellent situation for forage growth, but little chance for farmers to cut it. The result is expected to be an abundant supply of poor quality hay for this winter unless dry weather in September continues to allow farmers to harvest better quality hay. Pirates squash Hornets, 12-9

Pass spoils homecoming, breaks losing streak

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
The Pass Christian High School Pirates defeated the East Central High School Hornets 12-9 Friday night in Wade.

The surprising victory is the first Pirate win this season and dampened East Central's homecoming activities.

Pirate Head Coach Bob Lumpkin's reshuffling of offensive linemen and return to his veer option strategy proved to be a winning combination and baffled the Hornet defensive squad.

Lumpkin Saturday explained he began this season with the loaded option play because he felt the relatively young team could not execute the veer.

But after five straight losses, the Pirate mentor decided change offensive linemen and return to the veer option.

He noted two second-string linemen were introduced Friday night as offensive line starters which included Chris Vincent as a 142-pound right tackle and Eldridge Belvin as a 150-pound left guard, both sophomores.

Lumpkin said although the two are lighter, they are more aggressive players.

The aggressiveness and play strategy paid off big in the third quarter when Pirate Quarterback Jamie Jenkins began scampering through the right split side of the Hornet line for long yardage.

In addition, the mean Pirate line offered Jenkins more time to execute several effective rushing plays utilizing fleet-footed Tailback Ben Fields.

The result was devastating to the East Central team which seemed to lose the desire to win in the second half of their homecoming contest.

East Central dominated the first quarter of the game because of several Pass Christian defensive mistakes and penalties, Lumpkin said.

At the end of the first period Hornet player Scott Shirley booted a 35-yard field goal for three points.

Late in the second quarter, Pass Christian drove from their own 20-yard-line to the Hornet six.

With 24 seconds left in the first half, Jenkins handed off to Fields who ran to the far right side dodging East Central defenders and tiptoed in for the first touchdown.

But Pass Christian botched two two-point conversion attempts which were scuttled due to procedural penalties.

The Hornets came back with seconds left in the first half when Tailback Byron Wells rammed to the Pass 10 on a kickoff return he snagged in his fingertips on the East Central 30.

A short pass by Hornet Quarterback Darnell Jones to Split End Carl Cumbest on the right side of the end zone set the first half score of 9-6.

East Central failed in the conversion attempt with Shirley's kick falling to the right of the goal posts.

Pass Christian dominated the second half and with 47 seconds left in the third quarter set the game score of 12-9 with a short Jenkins pass to Split End Ramone Henderson for the TD.

The second Pirate point conversion attempt also failed.

Lumpkin noted although the Pirate offensive and defensive teams played well that the Pass special teams did not perform well at all.

In previous games the special squads performed the best, the head coach cited.

Lumpkin said it feels a whole lot better winning a ball game, but he particularly wanted to win for the benefit of the Pass players.

Game statistics show Pass Christian earning 12 first downs compared to East Central's six.

The Pirates gained 249 rushing yards while the Hornets were held to 88.

Jenkins passed 11 times, completed five and threw one interception. He gained 77 yards for the Pirates in passing.

Jones also threw the ball 11 times, but the Pirate defense only allowed two completions and intercepted the pigskin once. Jones earned 21 passing yards for the Hornets.

Pass Christian punted once for 30 yards and East Central booted the ball four times averaging 32 yards.

But the Pirates fumbled five times and lost ball possession three times, but East Central fumbled three times and held on to the pigskin.

In addition, the Pass was penalized six times losing 70 yards and the Hornets were cited five times and lost 55 yards.

St. John shows Eagle is tougher bird than Hawk

By EDGAR PEREZ

Hancock North Central missed a golden opportunity to score early in the first period Friday against St. John of Biloxi, and the Eagles took off from that point and never landed.

The Hawks had the Eagles with their backs to the wall and the visitors were forced to punt from within their own ten-yard-line on their first possession.

Halfback Rodney Rester blocked the punt, his colleague Gary Fricke recovered the loose ball on the nine, and the Hawks were in business.

HNC's rushing ace Lydell Curry tried twice to break through the Eagle defenses, but could get no closer than the seven.

In a backfield realignment due to injuries, junior Scott Favre held down the Hancock quarterback duties Friday at Hawk Stadium.

On third and seven, Favre attempted a pitchout which got loose. The Eagles recovered on the 15.

Eagle quarterback Elton Lombard, who connected on seven of 12 aeriels for 135 yards, throwing from about his own five on first down hit tight end Jacques Guillot at the Hawk 46.

Curry dumped the receiver on the spot, but the Hawks were tagged with a personal foul call, giving the visitors an additional 15 yards to the HNC 31.

Lombard engineered the ball down to the Hawk one in three plays, then plunged over for St. John's first tally with a little more than two minutes left in the first quarter.

Guillot's try for an extra point was wide.

Curry returned the Eagle kickoff 22 yards from his own 11, but Hancock got nowhere against the Eagle forward wall.

A Favre attempt on third down to Curry was incomplete, and the hosts were forced to punt from their 36.

The Eagles took over again on their own 46 for a rerun of their earlier scoring scenario.

Lombard hit Guillot on first down at the Hawk 26.

Lombard ran for eight on second down.

The defending Hawks allowed only one yard on third down, but with one yard to go on fourth down at the 17-yard-line, Lombard hit Guillot again for the second touchdown.

With Lombard holding, Guillot faked the two-point kick and the quarterback jumped up with the ball and raced around right end for the score.

The Eagles are 14 points ahead less than two minutes into the second quarter.

The Hawks embarked on a 12-play series from their own 23 which ended when a Favre toss, thrown on fourth down following a punting fake, was intercepted at the Eagle 40.

The drive included a 12 yard scamper by Hawk back Kevin Ladnier, a 10 yard keeper by Favre, and short rushes by Favre and Wayne Goff.

Favre completed five of 15 attempts in addition to the interception during his first shot as starting quarterback.

Hawk center Mike Gaudin sacked Lombard for a seven yard loss on the following first down.

St. John failed to recover from the setback and was forced to punt from near their own 40.

A 15-yard punt return by Curry was counterbalanced by a 15-yard clipping call against the Hawks.

Curry picked up 18 yards in two tries, but the clock ran out on the first half as Favre was sacked attempting a long throw. The Eagles, who scored in every frame, posted six more points on their first third quarter possession.

A Favre kickoff put the Eagles at their own 22.

And on third and two at their own 38, Lombard hit Guillot again, this time for 50 yards.

Saints stop Rocks, 28-14

By Randy Ponder

St. Stanislaus struck for two touchdowns late in their homecoming contest against St. Paul but it was too little too late as the visiting Saints marched to a 28-14 win Friday night in a high-school football game in Bay St. Louis.

After a scoreless first frame, St. Paul exploded for three touchdowns and a 21-0 halftime lead.

The Saints first tally came on a 10 yard run by David Padgett at the 11:34 mark of the second period. Morten Bruun booted the first of his 4 extra points through the uprights.

St. Paul padded its lead when Padgett scored from the 15 and Keith Martin later dived over from the 3.

The Rock-A-Chaws dented the scoreboard early in the final frame on a well executed 9 play 80 yard drive with Tubre reaching paydirt on a 5 yard scamper around the right end. Russ Betcher tagged on the extra point.

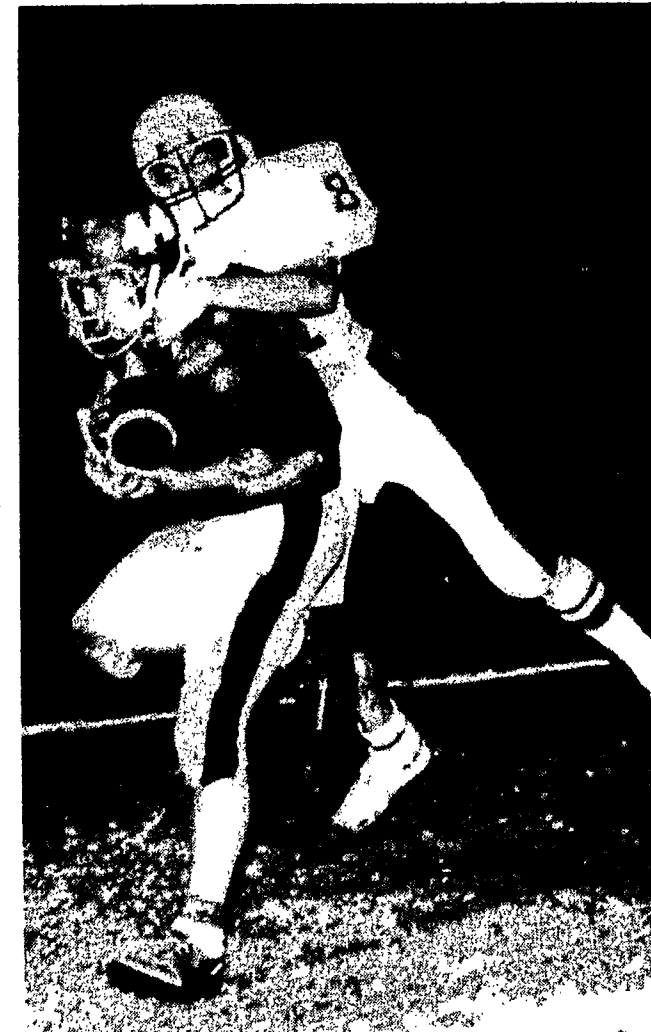

After St. Stanislaus' touchdown, the Saints put their starting quarterback into the game and quickly marched down field for a TD to put the contest out of reach, 28-7, with only 6:38 left on the clock.

Not giving up, the Rocks drove 80 yards for their final tally, a 10 yard dash by Killeen around the left end. Betcher again added the extra point to end all scoring in the game.

St. Stanislaus is 0-6 for the season and will travel to Stone County next week to face the improved Tomcats, 4-2. Game time is 7:30p.m. Friday night.

Bearcats nip Tigers 7-0

By BRENT MACEY

A few inches made the difference Friday night at Bay High Tiger Stadium as Long Beach stopped the Tigers on the goal line and held on to win 7-0 in the final minutes of the game.

The Tigers' homecoming contest proved to be one of Bay High's most erratic ball games of the year, with flashy running plays and long yard passing gains nullified by fumbles, penalties or broken punts.

Neither team was able to score in the first half, although the Long Beach Bearcats threatened twice.

Their first scoring threat came in the second quarter when Long Beach moved the ball all the way to the Tiger one yard line only to fumble into Tiger hands on a second down and goal play. On the Bearcats' next drive, an interception by Tiger Darren Smith stopped Long Beach short on the Tiger eight yard line.

Smith had two interceptions for the evening, to total five for this year's play.

The Tigers threatened to score in the third quarter on a 37 yard field goal by Mark Davis which had the distance but went right of the mark.

In the final quarter Long Beach gained possession on their own 45 following a Tiger punt.

A pass from Long Beach quarterback Ronnie Darte to Kevin Herfurth moved the ball up to the Tiger 38. On the next play the Tigers were called for pass interference which moved the ball to the Tiger 22. Two plays later Bearcat Robbie Lee went up the middle to score Long Beach's only touchdown of the evening. The PAT was good.

The Tigers seemed to ignite on the following kickoff with 7:06 remaining in the game.

Tiger Doug Dickinson returned the ball 49 yards from the Tiger 15 yard line up to the Long Beach 36. Tiger Harold Gillum then carried for six more yards before Bay High's Michael Lewis broke through the right side and moved the ball to the Long Beach 20.

The Tigers then stalled after being set back 15 yards for holding.

Lewis got back some of the yardage; and on a fourth down and 12 yard situation, Tiger quarterback David McIver pitched out to tightend Mark Johnson who tossed the ball to the goal line.

A Bearcat appeared to come up with the ball, but Smith managed to wrestle the ball loose and recover the resulting fumble on the Long Beach four yard line.

On the following three plays the Tigers moved inch by inch to the goal line. On the final attempt Gillum went to the Tigers' right side, but when the pile cleared out, the referees placed the ball two inches from the endzone and Long Beach gained possession.

The Tigers managed to force the Bearcats to punt three plays later with 51 seconds in the game.

Then with the ball on the 25 yard line, McIver completed a sideline pass to Mike Proulx who stopped the clock by getting out of bounds on the Long Beach 20 yard line with 46 seconds remaining.

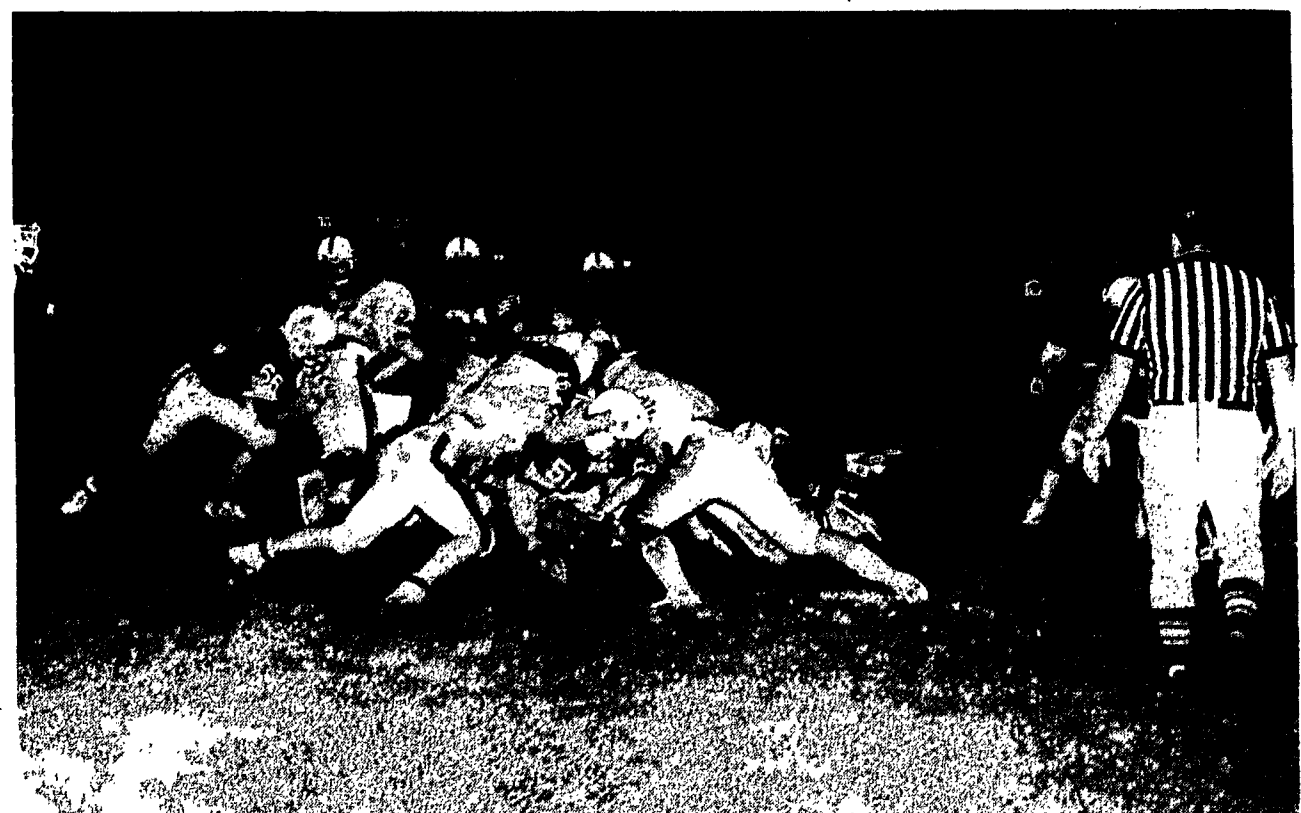

But on the next play, Herfurth intercepted a McIver's intended pass to Lewis who was in the endzone.

The Tigers now maintain a 4-1 conference record and a 4-2 season record.

The Bay will travel to East Central next Friday.

Friends of the Library outline Fall programs

By JOE PILET
Coordinator,
Library Friends

Members of the telephone committee of Hancock County Friends of the Library were entertained on Saturday at a Home and Garden party given by Miss Martha Van Peski who coordinates the group.

The party was held in the Highland Drive home of Mrs. Joe Pilet.

The group was given a "sneak preview" of some of the art work soon to be displayed at the library with local artists, Mrs. Jean Van Peski and Mrs. Nadine Stamm, honored.

Mrs. Van Peski's work includes three autumnal scenes: "Flight of the Wood Duck," "Backwaters at Sunset," and "Mystic Evening."

Mrs. Stamm displayed one of her several floral subjects "Fairy Roses and Purple Martins."

The group was given a brief outline of programs to be presented at forthcoming monthly meetings which will all be open to interested persons and free of charge.

Mrs. Olive McKenna plans a delightfully balanced musical program for November and Mrs. Dorothy Brown's theme will center around antiques. She appears on the program early in 1983.

An arrangement of multicolored fall flowers centered the table in the refreshment area where the table was overlaid with a Brazilian Art embroidered cloth having a colorful orchid and scroll motif. Presiding at the double punch bowls were Mrs. Nadine Stamm and Mrs. Olive McKenna. An assortment of tea sandwiches and dainty confections were also served.

The group then gathered around tables in the patio for a social hour during which time Mrs. Elizabeth Brown of Nashville, Tenn., a sister-in-law of Mrs. Dorothy Brown, discussed flowers and shrubs that thrive best in her area. Enthusiastic volunteers made excellent suggestions and offered additional services for the benefit of the library. There were many "ohs and ahs" as guests leafed through a 1982 Sears catalog which will be on display at Thursday's regular meeting.

Knight's notes

A Columbus Day Memorial Mass will be celebrated Tuesday night at the Council Hall. Bishop Joseph Howze will be a co-celebrant of the services which will honor the deceased members of the Pere Le Duc Council. The services will begin at 7:30 p.m. and the public is invited.

Past State Deputies of Louisiana Jimmy Sachern and Bob Ederman addressed the council and its guests on the organization of a vocations program within the council at the regular council meeting on Monday night, Oct. 4.

Sachern, who is a former resident of Bay St. Louis and past Knight of Pere Le Duc, and who is also a chaplain at St. Stephen's Hospital in St. Bernard Parish, stressed the shortages of priests and nuns serving Catholic parishes and schools throughout the nation.

He encouraged everyone to pray for more people answering the call of the priesthood and sisterhood. He urged support for those already committed to such professions.

Sachern, who travels throughout the South as a Knight vocations director, spoke of a school program he and Ederman have initiated that introduces children to the vocational life.

"Whatever direction we choose in life, be it the priesthood, the sisterhood, or as a layperson, we should make it a vocation to Christ," explained Ederman.

Grand Knight Bob Hubbard welcomed Sachern back to the Bay Council where he was a Knight over 20 years ago.

It was Sachern who helped to initiate Hubbard into the Knights. Sachern stated that he was glad to be back in the Bay and expressed gratitude for the Council's response to vocations.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

I am come that they might have life and that they might have it more abundantly — John 10:10

By Shaun Murphy

Wasn't it Cole Porter who wrote "to know, know, know him is to love, love, love him...and do"? And while his source of inspiration was in all probability not the Lord, few words have ever been written that could ever be more fitting.

I am convinced that the reason that more men and women don't own Him as Lord is because they don't know him very well.

"When Jesus came to the region of Caesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, 'Who do people say the Son of Man is?' They replied, 'Some say John the Baptist; others say Elijah; and still others, Jeremiah or one of the prophets.'"

"But what about you? he asked. 'Who do you say I am?'"

Simon Peter answered, "You are the Christ, the Son of the Living God." (Matthew 16:13-16 N.I.V.)

Who is Jesus of Nazareth to you? a myth? A mere man? Or the Son of God? Your life upon this earth and for all eternity is affected by your answer to this question.

He is the One who has changed the whole course of history. For history is after all nothing more nor less than His Story. Even the date on your morning newspaper gives witness to the fact that Jesus of Nazareth, the Christ, lived on this earth nearly two thousand years ago. "B.C." means "before Christ"; "A.D." means "anno domini," the Latin phrase meaning, "in the year of our

Trace the life and influence of Jesus Christ and you will observe that his message always effects a great change in the lives of men and nations. Remove Jesus of Nazareth from history, and it would be a completely different story.

One writer described Jesus' influence in this way: "Nineteen wide centuries have come and gone and today He is the centerpiece of the human race and the leader of the column of progress. I am far within the mark when I say that all the armies that ever marched and all the navies that ever were built, and all the parliaments that ever have sat, and all the kings that ever have reigned put together have not affected the life of man upon this earth as powerfully as has that one solitary life, Jesus of Nazareth."

To this end is this column prayerfully submitted, that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that by believing you may have (abundant) life in His name." (John 20:31 N.I.V.)

It is true you know, "to know him is to love him"...do you?

CLASSROOM BUILDING DEDICATION—Father Francis Farrell, pastor of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church in Bay St. Louis, blesses a newly-renovated, seven-classroom building on the campus of Our Lady's Academy girls high school. COLUMBIAN AWARD—Displaying the Columbian Award recently presented to Knights of Columbus Pere Le Duc Council No. 1522 in Bay St. Louis is Bob Hubbard of Waveland, grand knight of the Bay organization. He said Paulino Carrubba of Long Beach, Knights of Columbus district deputy, presented the award to the Catholic men's organization for sponsoring programs involving the church, council, families and youths of the Bay-Waveland area. Hubbard added that the nationally-recognized award was presented honoring the council's 1981-82 activities. (Staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

Navy Day flag raising slated

In honor of Navy Birthday, October 13, a flag raising ceremony will be conducted at Harbor Square in downtown Gulfport by the new Hancock Bank building at 9 a.m. The color guard detail will be comprised of members from the Naval Construction Training Center, a tenant command aboard the Naval Construction Battalion Center here.

The Navy is celebrating 207 years of superb tradition and seagoing experience enjoyed by the Navy-Marine Corps Team.

ETV Brief

MARK TWAIN
Christopher Makepeace, Lance Kerwin and Fred Gwynne star in Mark Twain's "The Mysterious Stranger," to be presented on "Great Performances" at 8 p.m., Monday, October 11, on the Mississippi ETV Network.

In "The Mysterious Stranger" Twain glides from dream to reality, from the magical to the mundane. At one moment the character "44" (Kerwin) instructs his friend August (Makepeace) in a difficult lesson: "Life is a dream. God, man, the sun and moon and stars—it's all a dream," and at another is a prankster fresh out of Huck Finn, delighting his pal with taste treats centuries away from discovery: "Fried spring chicken—milk-and-flour gravy from Alabama. Try it, August, and grieve for the angels, 'cause they ain't got it."

In the story Baltasar (Gwynne), the bumbling magician of the Schloss Moosham, expounds his knowledge of the universe to August Feldner (Makepeace), a young printshop apprentice, but it is the "mysterious stranger" (Kerwin) who really opens Feldner's eyes to what lies beyond his immediate world.

The program was shot on location in Austria.

THE WALL
For sometime now Alan Parker has been one of my favorite film directors. This may have something to do with the fact that neither Martin Scorsese or Hal Ashby have produced a film in recent years and lately, it seems, as if Robert Altman's unusual technique has slipped considerably.

Whatever the case, Parker first came to prominence with the brutally frank and controversial, 'Midnight Express.' This was followed by two minor masterpieces, 'Fame' and 'Shoot the Moon.' Parker has now fashioned his most grotesque and controversial film to date in the form of 'The Wall.' Taken from the album of the same name by Pink Floyd, 'The Wall' is simply a series of violent vignettes put to music.

The film has a ghastly feel to it. Not since George Roy Hill's 'Slaughterhouse Five' has a director brought the points of war and death across in such deeply disturbing imagery. Files of bodies, lone figures in the fog and gallons of crimson liquid permeate this picture.

Parker's films have always relied on the masterful edits that he employs. His orchestration with snippets of film to convey an emotion was superbly demonstrated in his uplifting exercise in determination, 'Fame', where a proud Mrs. Finnsucker with a Polaroid flashed away indiscriminately while her frail daughter attempted to recite serious Shakespeare...or with a quick closeup to a dainty ballerina's toe being gyrated gently in ground, yellow quartz. The images were fleeting, fresh and sweetly optimistic.

The montage of monstrosity that manifests itself in 'The Wall' is not pretty. Indeed, there's not a single good emotion in this picture. It's a depression-riddled, headlong plunge into self-pity and anger.

Women are treated like sexual objects, young students like pieces of meat in a sausage factory, and policemen act like stormtroopers during Nazi Germany. All these images are reminiscent of the late 1960's rebellious attitude toward The Establishment, thus, they really have no place in a 1982 film. Consequently, except for Parker's technical skills, 'The Wall' leaves much to be desired.

In summary, if you enjoy film technique, 'The Wall' is an exceptional, wondrous film. But, if you go to the movies to experience a good time—away from the problems of the day, then going to see 'The Wall' is like hitting your head against the same.

FILM CLIPS
For two fine films on HBO, check out 'Body Heat' and 'Arthur.'

These two films are on opposite ends of the spectrum. Whereas 'Body Heat' is deadly serious, 'Arthur' displays little reverence and the first hour of the film is truly hilarious.

Credit Lawrence Kasdan's fine writing and direction for the steamy and successful 'Body Heat.' His plot is a labyrinth of emotions, intrigue and false clues. William Hurt ('Eyes Witness') is especially good as the unlikely villain. Kathleen Turner plays a sizzling femme fatale, and Mickey Rourke's small-time arsonist is a gen of a character study.

'Arthur' relies heavily on Dudley Moore's silly, drunken behavior and Sir John Gielgud's impeccable timing. Gielgud won a well-deserved Oscar for his happy jaunt through outrageous supporting comedy.

Faults with the film include Liza Minnelli's total lack of credibility as Arthur's true love and a predictable ending that doesn't seem to come soon enough. Still, 'Arthur' is one of the funniest movies made in recent years.

ETV Briefs

ALL CREATURES

The popular BBC television series "All Creatures Great and Small," recounting James Herriot's experiences as a Yorkshire Dales veterinarian, will be rebroadcast on the Mississippi ETV Network. The 41 episodes, comprising two different series, can be seen at 8 p.m., Sundays, beginning October 10. The two series were first seen on ETV in 1979 and 1980.

"All Creatures" is based on Herriot's first four novels and tells the story of a young, newly qualified surgeon arriving for his first job in an established practice. Christopher Timothy is cast in the lead role. His adventures involve his partnership with Siegfried Farnon (Robert Hardy) and Farnon's ever-scheming young brother Tristan (Peter Davison), Herriot's courtship and eventual marriage to Helen (Carol Drinkwater) and his acceptance by the local farmers and country folk in an area in which a stranger was always regarded with suspicion.

In the series the time is the romantic era just before World War II. Those golden days when people seemed to have time to gossip and when life had a reassuring homeliness pace are vividly portrayed by the cast.

BOYS' RANCH

The 4-B program at Mississippi Sheriff's Boys' Ranch in Columbus is the topic of a feature story on "Farmweek" at 7:30 p.m., Monday, Oct. 11, on Mississippi ETV.

According to reporter Helen Brahan, the members of the club, which is called the "Ranch Hands," will be interviewed about the many projects they've worked on. For example, each boy in the club has a horse assigned to him so he can learn about horsemanship; members work in the facility's dairy; for one of their woodworking projects, they helped construct one of the buildings on the ranch; and the boys learn which snakes are poisonous.

County Agent's Notes

By John Smith

UNSEEN PEST

A tiny critter so small you can't even see it could be reducing your soybean yields. The critter is the soybean cyst nematode, and what it lacks in size it makes up for in numbers and ability to reduce yields.

The nematode is a microscopic roundworm that feeds on the roots of soybean plants. This reduces the plant's ability to absorb water and nutrients. In high populations, nematodes have been known to reduce soybean yields in individual fields by up to 75 percent.

Two years ago, soybean producers in 14 southern states lost about $200 million to the cyst nematode. Compared to surrounding states, Mississippi's losses were much lower because of producers' acceptance of the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service nematode control program.

But the soybean cyst nematode is a problem. In 1980, losses were about $3.5 million in the state. The soybean cyst nematode has been found in 72 counties in the state, including Hancock County.

If you notice round patches of stunted and yellow soybeans in the field, suspect nematode problems. Affected plants may wilt even with adequate soil moisture, and the roots of damaged plants often are dark and discolored.

If you do suspect nematode problems, have your soil tested to be sure. The way the soil samples are collected is very important. Contact the county Extension Office for details on testing for nematodes.

SAVE LEAVES

You may be one of those who consider falling leaves or pine straw a nuisance. But they can be put to good use as mulching around flowers, shrubs and young shade trees.

A four to six inch layer of leaves or straw around flowers and shrubs protects roots from freezing this winter and from getting too hot next summer. Last winter's experiences should remind us that lawn plants need all the extra help you can give them.

Using the leaves and straw as mulching also helps conserve soil moisture for plant roots. This will reduce watering chores next summer and fall. The materials also reduce weed problems by serving as a barrier to weeds.

Keep the leaves, straw and the planting area moist during dry periods to avoid the danger of fire around wooden buildings and homes.
